B1. Listen and read.

It is the children's first day back at school after the summer holidays. Jason's teacher, Mr Thomson, wants the class to write about their lives and families.

My name is Jason Alexiou. I am eleven years old and I come from Greece, but I live in London with my family. My father is a businessman and my mother works as a teacher at my school. My sister, Helen, is one year older than me and she is also a student at this school. I love my sister but we argue almost every day.

I don't have many hobbies but I like computer games. I also spend time with my friends and write emails to my email friends when I haven't got too much homework. I like my life in London, but I sometimes miss Greece.

I hope to move back one day, but not yet. I love travelling to other countries. We move around a lot because of my father's job and maybe we will move to Australia next year.

B2. Read and tick.

- Jason comes from Greece.
- Mrs Alexiou works at Jason's school.
- Jason has got a lot of hobbies.
- Jason misses Greece every day.
- Perhaps Jason's family will be in Australia next year.

Jason: Helen, do you believe in magic?

Helen: No. People may enjoy watching magic tricks but they don't believe they're real. There's always a way to explain them.

Jason: Well, it's your lucky day. I'm going to show that you're wrong with an amazing card trick. Pick a card.

Helen: Oh Jason! You may think you're clever but you should stop doing silly tricks.

Jason: Well, this trick is really good. I've practised it a hundred times.

Helen: Oh OK. Now what? Can you make it disappear?

Jason: No, silly. Put it back on top ... Now, make two piles ... Great. I'll put them together and mix them up. Now, I'll turn them over and tell you which card is yours ... hmmm ... I think it should be ... this one.

Helen: Wow! That's amazing! That was my card! How did you do that?

Jason: I read your mind, of course.

Helen: Come on, Jason, that's silly! Please tell me how you did it! I may try it too.

Jason: A good magician should never tell his secrets. It may spoil the magic!
