Subject: Holiday pics (Indicative answer)

Hi!

I'm finally back from Ibiza! It's a great place! I'm attaching some cool pics: In the first one, Paul and I are eating "flaó", a local sweet pie. In the second photo, we are sitting at a cosy café and we are admiring the view of Dalt Vila, Ibiza's old town. The last one is from a local club. Lia is drinking a delicious fruit juice called "granizado" and we are dancing to Spanish pop music. The nightlife in Ibiza is awesome!

I hope you can come next time we go. 😊 What about your holiday? Send me some photos and tell me all about it!

Take care,
Ben

DIGITAL TIMES

Do you remember film cameras, video players and Walkmans? What about floppy discs and audio cassettes? Nowadays, gadgets and devices are quite different and most young people do not even know what these items look like. However, some people keep using old technology and they've probably got a good reason for it.

"Sure, computers are fun and really easy to use. However, there's something magical about the 'clack, clack, clack' sound of the typewriter. I'm probably a silly romantic, but I can't live without it!"

Karla is typing on her vintage typewriter.

"I feel that music is different on vinyl, especially when listening to albums from the 60s and 70s."

Mike is listening to Deep Purple on vinyl.

"I'm happy with my old-fashioned flip phone. Just making calls and sending SMSs is OK for me. I don't need an Internet connection or a digital camera all day long. Plus, I only have to charge it once a week!"

Olivia is using her flip phone to send an SMS.

"I love vintage video games. I know that I can use my PC to play them, but it's quite special having the original arcade machines from the 80s. I feel like a teenager again."

Don is playing Pac-Man in an amusement arcade.
