— ✨ About the story ✨ —

Aladdin is a smart young boy. He lives with his mother in a little old house in the Arabian Desert. They haven't got much money. One day, Aladdin meets a strange man. The man takes the boy to a cave to find an old lamp. In the cave, Aladdin finds the lamp and a beautiful ring, too. The lamp and the ring are magic: when you rub them, genies come out! Aladdin takes the ring and the lamp to his house and his life changes forever. When he is older, he sees the sultan's daughter, the princess, at the market, and he falls in love with her. But can Aladdin, a poor young man, marry her?

ανακύκλωση λεξιλογίου

Jake: But why? The Land of Toys is the best place in the world: there aren't any schools, teachers or books there. You can play all day!

Narrator: Pinocchio likes the idea.

Jake: Come on! The train is coming! Let's run!

Narrator: Pinocchio looks at the train. There are one hundred children on the train. They are dancing, singing and playing games. It's great! Jake jumps on the train.

Pinocchio: I don't want to jump on the train! I want to go home and be a good son!

Narrator: When Pinocchio says this, his nose grows a little bit again. Pinocchio touches it and he is surprised. But he doesn't want to think about it now. He wants to have fun.

Pinocchio: Jake, wait! I want to go with you!

Narrator: So, Pinocchio jumps on the train, too. All the children on the train are very happy, and Pinocchio is very happy, too. The train starts and they all go to the Land of Toys.

Dorothy meets Scarecrow

Narrator: Dorothy and Toto are on the yellow path. Suddenly, Dorothy sees a scarecrow. The scarecrow looks at her.

Scarecrow: Good morning! Who are you?

Dorothy: Wow! You can talk! Can you come down from the pole?

Scarecrow: I want to come down, but I can't. Can you help me?

Narrator: Dorothy helps the scarecrow come down.

Scarecrow: I'm Scarecrow. Nice to meet you!

Dorothy: I'm Dorothy, and this is my dog, Toto. Nice to meet you, too. We're going to the Emerald City. I want to ask the Wizard of Oz to help me. He can send us back home. Do you want to come with us?

Scarecrow: That's a good idea! I haven't got a brain. I can ask the Wizard of Oz to give me one.

Narrator: So, together, Dorothy, Toto and Scarecrow follow the yellow path.

Chapter 5

The sultan's daughter

Narrator: Years pass. Aladdin and his mother haven't got any problems now. They live a happy life. They don't want to be hungry again, but they don't want to use the magic lamp very often. So, they still live in their little old house and Aladdin still goes to the market every day to sell fruit and vegetables.

Now, Aladdin is a handsome young man. One day, at the market, he sees the sultan's daughter, the princess. She is very beautiful! She has got big green eyes and long black hair. Aladdin falls in love with her!

Super Course

Narrator: Aladdin goes home and tells his mother about the beautiful princess. He wants to marry her and his mother wants to help him. The Genie of the Lamp can help him, too!

Aladdin rubs the lamp and the genie comes out.

Genie of the Lamp: What do you want, Master?

Aladdin: I want a box full of gold and jewels, please, Genie.

Genie of the Lamp: Of course, Master!

Narrator: The Genie of the Lamp claps his hands, and a box full of gold and jewels appears. The genie smiles and he goes back into the lamp. The next day, Aladdin's mother takes the treasure to the sultan's palace. She wears her best clothes.
